“The road to maturity is through teaching and instruction. What you need for that is teachers with boundless energy; and what you need for that is the life-giving power of the king himself, working within Paul then and Christian teachers ever since. Great demands will be made on them. But the energy which Jesus inspires within them is always more than equal to the task.”

Our Vision: Present everyone mature in Christ

A painting of Jesus walking on a beach at sunset. He is seen from behind, wearing a white robe and carrying a cross. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a bright, golden glow that reflects on the wet sand. In the distance, a small boat is visible on the water. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.
