VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR COMMUNITY DAY - SATURDAY, AUGUST 16

How would you like to spend time outdoors, see friends, and help Christ Lutheran Church, all at the same time? You can!

Just volunteer to spend a couple of hours at Community Day, an annual event held at Dimmick Park in Hellertown. Community Day 2025 will take place on Saturday, August 16 from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Many churches, local businesses, and other civic organizations are represented. It's one of the best opportunities of the year for Christ Lutheran Church and the Children's Learning Center to showcase what we represent in the community.

If you'd like to volunteer as a representative, you can sign the sign-up sheet in the Narthex or contact Dave Willard (631-697-7970 • stixny@aol.com). We would especially like to encourage our newer members to volunteer. Every volunteer, whether a long-time member or a newbie, has an opportunity to let attendees at Community Day know what attracted them to Christ Lutheran and what makes our church unique.

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA SYNOD MONTHLY NEWSLETTER

Nurtured by Community, Sent to Serve: A Candidacy Story

Written by: Heidi Shilanskas, Candidate for Word and Service

Hi! My name is Heidi Shilanskas, and I am a Deacon Candidate at United Lutheran Seminary, serving at Star of Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Bethlehem, Pa. I am in my final year of Seminary, preparing to start my internship this fall. I am looking forward to graduating in May of 2026 from ULS and starting my call as a Deacon in Northeast Penn Synod.

I have always been involved in Youth and Family Ministry since my own days as a youth, going to Lutheran Youth Fellowship (LYF) Assemblies and participating in Mission District progressive dinners. As a paid youth worker at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church in Easton, I took classes out of the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg (now ULS) on youth ministry and learned from professors and leaders in the field how to look beyond the church walls for service projects for youth. After I got married and had my own children, I started to look for new ways we could participate in church in a culture that doesn't center congregational ministry the same way it did when I was growing up. As a member of St. Mark's in Bethlehem, I started dreaming of new ways to involve children, teens and their parents in ministry beyond the church, making service in our communities a core element of church life.

My candidacy journey started when Pastor Brandon Heavner suggested I'd be a good candidate for ministry. At first, I scoffed at his certainty, but he was tenacious and after many, many discerning conversations about call and passion, I decided to move forward with candidacy. The next step was meeting with Pastor Rachael Dietz, then Executive Associate to the Bishop and Director of Candidacy. Her warmth and encouragement helped me feel secure in the decision to go to Seminary. Without Pastor Brandon and Pastor Rachael, I would never have dreamed God's call on my life would have included Candidacy and Seminary. I am forever grateful for their faith in me.

For my internship, I plan on implementing some of those dreams. I am looking forward to creating "family style" worship services that are intergenerational and interactive so all members can participate in the liturgy. I am planning Bible studies with a focus on service and using our gifts to serve our neighbors.

I will use social media and online tools to create more opportunities to connect with people. Finally, I am hoping to work more closely with the Bethlehem Interfaith Group on creating ecumenical services projects with our neighbors who aren't just Lutheran, but Presbyterian, Moravian, Jewish or Muslim, etc. I am excited to find ways to be a part of a wider community of neighbors.

My ministry is centered around Jesus' command to love God with all our heart, soul, mind and strength and to love our neighbors as we love ourselves. Diaconal work looks outside of our church buildings to find the needs in the community and make connections to the resources of time, talent and treasure stored within our walls. As I meet and talk to Deacons across the ELCA, I am inspired by the courage, creativity and experimentation that fosters new and exciting way of reaching God's people outside of the church buildings. I am hopeful that my own work will continue in this tradition, planting seeds of love in communities desperately in need of joy.

If you are interested in or discerning Candidacy, please contact Pastor Jennifer Heavner at

5 Ways to Give Without Changing Your Will or Trust

Would you like to leave a gift to Christ Lutheran Church Hellertown in your will or trust, and avoid a big legal bill? Here are 5 easy and free ways to make a gift without changing your will or trust:

1. Name Christ Lutheran as a beneficiary of your IRA, 401(k), 403(b), or other retirement plan.
These are tax-heavy assets. Taxes can eat up a large part of your hard earned savings when you give these assets to loved ones. A charity won't pay tax on your gift. Your entire gift can help to protect and preserve our church.
2. Name Christ Lutheran as a beneficiary of your Donor Advised Fund (DAF).
3. Name Christ Lutheran as a beneficiary of a life insurance policy.
4. Give your remaining bank funds to Christ Lutheran. This is a POD or payable-on-death account.
5. Transfer your remaining investments to Christ Lutheran. This is a TOD or transfer-on-death account.

All you have to do is complete a beneficiary form with your financial institution. You can change your mind at any time by completing a new beneficiary form.

Please contact Chris Myers (cdmdad4@aol.com) or Brad Wagner (bwagner@bdwagnerlaw.com)

www.epa.gov/statelocalenergy/green-banks

This is something that we should all consider and look into, green banks. These are banks that consider where to loan/invest and try to avoid investing in places that harm our planet. I did a search and then looked at the EPA's information on this. Here is a couple of paragraphs that I copied directly from them: Green banks are public, quasi-public, or nonprofit financing entities that leverage public and private capital to pursue goals for clean energy projects that reduce emissions. Generally, state and local policymakers use green banks to deliver projects that are not sufficiently met by other financial markets and to achieve desired economic development or public benefit outcomes. Green banks deploy various financial services such as credit enhancements and co-investments to leverage private capital to achieve its objectives. In some cases, green banks can offer subsidized loans at interest rates lower than typical market offerings, or they can take on risks that the market is not currently accepting by offering loans to customers who do not meet the credit requirements of other lenders. In other cases, green banks provide support to other lenders, which can either be financial or procedural, to lower barriers for these lenders in markets that are currently underserved. By focusing on underserved market sectors, green banks can complement existing clean energy programs by targeting market gaps. They can address existing barriers that otherwise prevent the expansion of clean energy. Many green banks have tailored their programs to improve access to clean energy projects for low- and moderate-income (LMI) communities.

Green banks generally share the following key features:

- They are mission-driven financing institutions.
- They have a mandate to advance the deployment of clean energy.
- They leverage their funds to stimulate private capital.
- They offer products across sectors and focus on bridging market gaps.

Green banks may be administered by the following entities:

- Local or state agencies typically use legislative authorities and public or private funding to establish green banks, although a variety of funding sources and structures may be used. For example, green banks can source funding from federal, state, or private grants and bonds; or they can capitalize utility ratepayer surcharges. Legislative action by a local or state government can be used to create a new entity or repurpose existing entities in the form of a green bank. Local governments must consider if they have the legislative authority to establish a green bank or whether they can partner with an existing state-administered green bank.

- Nonprofit organizations may be established as green banks. This process typically does not require the legislation and authorization needed to establish a green bank as a government entity.⁶ Some level of government support is important, but government dependency could potentially slow the formation or limit the operating flexibility of a green bank. In recent years, the number of nonprofit green banks established by government and community counterparts has increased. Nonprofit organizations can work with both public and private funders, and can tap into new centralized pools of capital, which allow green banks to expand their activities to a larger number of participants.

An example from the field: The Connecticut Green Bank is a quasi-public agency that leverages ratepayer funds with private capital to offer low-cost, long-term financing for clean energy projects. The Connecticut Green Bank was the first green bank established in the United States. As of 2021, there are 21 green banks in 16 states and the District of Columbia, with $7 billion in investments since 2011. The Connecticut Green Bank offers clean energy programs—including incentives and loans—for all sectors, such as loans for homeowners, a Commercial Property Assessed Clean Energy (C-PACE) program, multifamily energy efficiency project financing, energy service performance contracting assistance, solar services, and clean transportation.

There are several other banks that are listed and described as to what they do as far as promoting clean energy projects. I recommend that you do a bit of reading and consider whether you can make use of this information in the future. It's a smart move to educate ourselves on what is happening and what is available to us as consumers who are concerned about our environment.

This Year Marks the 80th Anniversary of the Atomic Bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki

The magnitude of death and destruction of the bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in August 1945 spurred faith communities around the world to insist: nuclear weapons must never be used again.

The nonprofit Voices for a World Free of Nuclear Weapons was created to continue this insistence, and to encourage all individuals of goodwill and all organizations of concern to draw strength from their collective convictions and longings for a better tomorrow on Nuclear Prayer Day.

This year, our church is hosting a local Nuclear Prayer Day on August 5th to join with communities around the world for an evening of prayer, commemoration, and hope for the future. The evening will begin with a 6PM peace song sing-along. Dave's Deli and Carl's Corner are sponsoring appetizers from around the globe to accompany the sing-along.

At 7 PM, the local meeting will join a livestream with international faith leaders organized by May Peace Prevail on Earth International, the creators of the peace poles seen around the Lehigh Valley (and in our own peace garden!)

After a moment of silence in remembrance of the bombing of Hiroshima, the evening concludes with a prayer vigil live from the Hiroshima Peace Dome, where all participants will join in praying for peace to prevail in each and every country on earth.

I invite any-and-everyone who wishes for a more peaceful tomorrow to attend and join us in prayer, song and love for our blessed garden planet. I hope to see you there!
