

Church Family,

We know that people are most open to hearing about Jesus in the midst of loss, pain, suffering, and adversity. As a body of believers, we have the opportunity to be a light in the midst of a lot of fear and uncertainty. We have the opportunity to reflect the hope of Jesus, reflect the peace of Jesus, and to be his hands and feet in serving others.

I encourage each of us to stop and take a moment to consider how we can personally serve our neighbor because of the hope that we have and consider these questions:

How are we caring for one another?

How can we as the body of Christ serve those within our church and around us?

How can we serve those who no longer have childcare because the schools are closed?

How can we serve those families who depend on free lunch to feed their kids now that the schools are closed?

How can we serve those who are at risk and homebound?

How can we serve the widows?

How can we serve those in our church who are vulnerable (financially, physically, emotionally)?

How can we serve those struggling with mental health disorders who may struggle with more anxiety and isolation as a result of being homebound?

I would encourage you to take this opportunity to share the love of Christ. Make the phone call, send the email, send the text -- reach others, In His Name.

Last, but not least, if you are in need of support, please reach out to myself or one of the other pastors at Vista.

In Him,

Lisa Travis
Life Support Pastor

2 Cor 5:14-15

For Christ's love compels us, because we are convinced that one died for all, and therefore all died. And he died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves but for him who died for them and was raised again.
