Resetting Financially

1.29.23

1. Read Acts 20:35. How is it truly more blessed to give than to receive?
2. On Sunday, it was said that “resetting financially means that we choose to put God first in our finances.” Explain how this is true and why it matters?
3. How would you answer the following questions that were raised on Sunday:
  - a. When I consider my finances, where am I in need of a “reset”?
  - b. How can a “reset” in my finances lead to generosity?
4. Read 2 Corinthians 8:1-7.
  - a. How were the Macedonians godly with their finances?
  - b. How did Paul challenge the church in Corinth to be generous?
  - c. How does this passage inspire you to put God first in your finances?
5. Which application step from Sunday’s sermon (listed below) is God convicting you to work on this week and why?
How to Reset Financially:
  - 1) Put God first in your finances
  - 2) Wisely manage your finances
  - 3) Get out of debt
  - 4) Save for the future
  - 5) Be content with what you have

1.29.23

1. Read Colossians 1:16-18. What does God possess? Is there anything God does not own?
2. Read Matthew 6:25-33. Who provides what you have? What does God provide to those that seek Him?
3. Read 1 Timothy 6:6-10. How should we view God's gifts? What does it mean to be content?
4. Read 1 Timothy 6:17-19 & Acts 20:35. How should we use our riches or our abundant riches?
5. What can we learn from Luke 14:28? Should we first think about how we use our money, and if we can afford what we spend it on?

Encouragement to Parents - Find ways to practically apply financial responsibility, and opportunities to be generous.
