URGENT PRAYER

Pray for our teams in the Arabian Peninsula and the Middle East affected by the major combat operations. Praise God that everyone is safe and sheltering in place, though the region is currently a no-fly zone. Pray for divine protection over them, peace, wisdom and discernment, inner strength, and calm in the midst of the storm, that their presence would be a source of encouragement and God's love to the people they interact with every day.

Least-Reached People Group Focus: Kuy—The Kuy inhabit both sides of the Thai–Cambodian border, with about 35,000 Kuy living on the Cambodian side. Predominantly animist in their beliefs, with a little Buddhism mixed in, only 0.53% of the Kuy would be considered evangelical Christians. There may be a handful of Kuy in Canada. Pray that the Kuy will have a great interest in the recently translated Bible. Pray that those who have made a decision for Christ would boldly proclaim their faith.

Mexico—Pray with Chris and Angela in light of recent events in Mexico for the Kingdom to come—bringing hope, freedom, life, healing and reconciliation—and that His love would be made visible through His church across the nation. We trust You, our Prince of Peace. Amen.

Middle East—Pray for a good response to the invitation from Asia Biblical Theological Seminary for enrolment in the seminary training being offered in a city in the Middle East. Pray that the hearts of believers will be open to equipping themselves to better serve Him and their own people in the areas of counselling, education, intercultural work, marketplace, and pastoral ministry. Pray particularly for their call for more women to engage in the new cohort, which is being planned for May.

Central Asia—Pray for those celebrating Ramadan. Many mosques in their city have installed lighting and decorations to remind people of this annual event. Some children as small as six years old will be asked to fast. Pray that they will encounter Jesus in dreams and visions while they try to pursue holiness. Pray that believers will be bold to share their hope wisely.
