Questions for the Community

1. Review the “sermon in a sentence” from Sunday’s message. How does this describe the book of Habakkuk? (HINT: remember the flow from the beginning of the book to the end; HINT 2: a great way to solidify learning is to try to explain it to someone else…this is faith training here!)
2. Review the actions and thoughts of Habakkuk in the first 2 chapters: 1:2-4; 1:12-17; 2:1. How is this instructive or challenging or confusing to you?
3. What’s the difference between bringing honest questions to God and letting those questions turn into defiance?
4. Why might God’s presence and character matter more than getting a complete explanation for our suffering?
5. What does “the righteous shall live by faith” (Habakkuk 2:4) look like when God’s ways are hard to understand? Who does this well and how can you learn from that person?
6. How does Habakkuk’s journey from complaint to praise in 3:18–19 challenge the idea that faith means pretending everything is fine?
7. What honest question or complaint do you need to bring to God rather than hide from him? Are you able to name what is stopping you? (IE shame, pride, an upbringing that didn’t allow for sadness or questions, etc)
8. What could your “watchtower”—a regular place and time to seek God, wait, and listen—look like this week? If you already have this set in place…praise God and press on to know him more. (Hosea 6:3)
9. Where might God be inviting you to trust and obey while you’re still waiting for an answer? (see 2 Corinthians 4:8–9 to know that you aren’t alone and this isn’t strange for a Christian)
10. Don’t forget the sunrise. Keep Habakkuk 3:4 in front of your mind as you carve out an incredible start to your day!
