Although many endowment donations come through wills, you don't have to wait until you die to give to the Endowment Fund (EF). We hope that's a long way off and we think we can find good ways to use the investment income from the EF for ministries now. If we can reach $$ 200,000$, we can provide around $$ 5,000$ most years for ministries. The more the fund grows, the larger the investment income to be used for ministries. Only in extreme circumstances can the principal be spent. Endowment income cannot be spent on ordinary budget items like electricity or apportionments.

General undesignated gifts (this is the term used in the EF Charter; you might also call them unrestricted gifts) provide the most flexibility for the Endowment Committee and Focus Team to meet ministry goals. We'll always accept gifts of cash, checks, and publicly traded securities. Other types of gifts are subject to Bethany's Gift Acceptance Policy, which is posted on this website. You may designate your gift for certain uses, but we have limits on the restrictions we can accept, such as a minimum gift of $$ 10,000$ so it produces a meaningful amount of annual investment income.

If you have questions or want further information, particularly about restricted gifts, please check the website and/or talk to an Endowment Committee member.

The Endowment Committee cannot provide tax or legal advice. We believe that the statements about deductibility shown below are correct for most people under current federal law, but you should check with your attorney, accountant or tax preparer.

1. Write a check

| Degree of Difficulty - Easy | Just drop your check in the offering plate or mail it |

2. Direct your Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) or Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) to the Endowment Fund

Your provider can make the check to Bethany but mail it to you to deliver.  Regardless of the method you choose, always make the check payable to Bethany and be sure to note on the check that this is a QCD for the Endowment Fund.  You must have a traditional IRA, an inherited traditional IRA, or an inactive SEP or SIMPLE plan to make a QCD.  QCDs are limited to $$ 100,000$ a year (indexed for inflation). You can split the RMD/QCD between the EF and other uses, such as satisfying your annual giving.  The amount of the RMD/QCD will not be taxable income to you, so you cannot deduct it as an itemized deduction. Essentially, it has already been deducted (by not being included in income) even if you do not itemize. Further, if this amount is not included as income it may help you reduce your Medicare premiums and/or income taxes on Social Security benefits, which depend on income. |

6. Give appreciated securities, such as stock

| Degree of Difficulty - Moderate  Timing of Impact - Near term Tax Deductions and Other - Better than Normal (i.e. if you itemize; see explanation in text regarding appreciation) | Direct your stock broker to transfer the stock to Bethany's account. You can obtain the details about this from Martha Rose. Or you can give Bethany an actual stock certificate, properly executed for the transfer. Send Martha Rose an email or letter notifying her of the gift and saying how you want the gift to be used. You can split the gift between the EF and other uses, such as satisfying your annual giving. Send the Endowment Committee a letter notifying us of the gift and specifying any designations/restrictions on the use of the gift (You can find a Bequest Intention form on this website).  The market value of the stock is allowable as a deduction if you itemize deductions. You do not report the difference between the market value at the date of the gift and your basis (usually your cost) in that stock as income EVER. |

If your estate is  subject to estate taxes, the amount paid should be  deductible for estate tax purposes. If you leave  this type of asset (other than a Roth IRA) to your  children for example, they usually will pay income  taxes as they receive the money. Leaving them  other assets and donating 401(k)/IRA/TSA money  to charity usually will reduce their taxes. |

8. More sophisticated methods

If you want to use any of the methods shown below, you may need to start with your attorney or accountant. The Endowment Committee can only provide general information, but it also would decide whether or not to accept certain gifts such a personal or real property (see the Gift Acceptance Policy portion of this website for details).

| Gift of personal property | Charitable remainder trust |
| :--- | :--- |
| Gift of life insurance (ownership) | Charitable remainder annuity |
| Gift of real estate | Charitable gift annuity |
| Gift of retained real estate | Charitable lead trust |
