INTRODUCTION

Grace and Peace!

I am grateful that you have chosen to take part in this 12-day devotional journey. I want to begin by stating the purpose of this consecrated time, so that we enter it with the right expectations and the right posture before God.

This devotional is designed for one central aim: to pray and ask the Lord what He is requiring of you. These twelve days are not meant to be a spiritual exercise where you start with your own ideas, your own preferences, or even your own plans for the future. Instead, this process begins with God. It is an invitation to step away from the noise and pressure of life long enough to hear His voice, sense His direction, and submit your heart to His will.

In other words, this is not first about what you want. This is about what God wants. When we begin with Him, we position ourselves to receive clarity we cannot produce on our own. When we are in this posture we allow God to shape our desires instead of asking Him to bless decisions we have already made.

These days are also meant to help you reconnect with God in a deeper way. Life has a way of pulling us into constant motion where we are busy, responsible, and productive, but not always centered. This devotional creates a sacred pause. It gives you space to return to the presence of God, to be strengthened by Him, and to realign your life with His heart. Spiritual clarity often comes not from striving harder, but from listening more closely.

Finally, part of this journey is to discover the scripture you will stand on. As you pray over these twelve days, listen for the passage that the Lord highlights to you. It may speak to your season, your calling, your next step, or even your healing. Whatever it is, receive it with faith. That scripture will become a foundation for you; something to hold, to trust, and to return to when questions arise or challenges come.

I encourage you to approach each day with honesty, humility, and expectation. Show up as you are. Bring your whole self to God. But also come ready to yield. The goal is not simply to complete a devotional. The goal is to meet with God and to leave changed, directed, and grounded in His truth.

I am praying that during these twelve days the Lord will speak with clarity, guide with love, and strengthen you with courage to obey what He reveals. May this time be holy, fruitful, and life-giving for you.

I'm excited about your future,
Bishop Simeon A. Moultrie

Open my eyes,
that I may see
Wondrous things from Your law.

DIG DEEPER

In our twelve-day consecration, I have provided a series of thoughtful questions for you to consider. You are not obligated to answer each one; however, they are intentionally designed to help you reflect, refocus, and position yourself spiritually for this time of consecration. As you move through these days, allow these questions to guide your heart, sharpen your perspective, and create space for God to speak with clarity and purpose.

Coming Before God Honestly

1. What brought you into this 12-day devotional right now?
2. By the conclusion of these twelve days, what condition do you desire your heart to be in?"
3. If you could describe your current spiritual condition in a few sentences, what would you say?
4. In this season, what do you sense you need most from God: direction, healing, correction, comfort, courage, or something else? Why?

Releasing What You Are Carrying

6. What burdens, pressures, or responsibilities feel heaviest to you right now?
7. What situations or relationships are draining your spirit?
8. What are you carrying that God never asked you to carry? Or what are you carrying that you should not be carrying anymore?

Surrender and Alignment

16. What parts of your life are you most reluctant to place fully in God's hands?
17. What do you fear might happen if you fully obey God?
18. What does "Yes, Lord" need to mean for you in this season?

Naming Desires, Dreams, and Motives

- 21. What are you praying for most right now, and why?
- 22. What desires do you need God to purify, redirect, or confirm?
- 23. What dreams or goals are you bringing before God for the future?
- 24. If God said “not now” or “not this,” what would that confront in you?

Looking Back to See Clearly

- 26. What has God been teaching you in the last six to twelve months?
- 27. What pain, disappointment, or delay has shaped you recently?
- 28. Where have you seen God’s faithfulness in your life, even in difficult moments?
- 29. What unfinished lessons or unresolved issues keep resurfacing?
- 30. What patterns in your life suggest the Lord is trying to get your attention?

Identifying What Blocks Spiritual Clarity

- 31. What distractions most often pull you away from God?
- 32. What noise (internal or external) makes it hard for you to hear the Lord?
- 33. Where are you tempted to rush, control outcomes, or force answers?

Expectation and Faith

- 36. What are you asking God to reveal to you during this devotional?
- 37. What would clarity from God change about how you live right now?
- 38. What scripture or biblical truth have you been leaning on lately, and why?

39. What kind of word from the Lord are you hoping to receive?

40. What does it mean to you to “stand on” a scripture, not just read one?
