Trinity

Matters

GOD AT WORK

“My Father is working, and I am working.” — Jesus

When sin entered God’s creation, humankind began to struggle to see and believe that God still works amid the mess. For thousands of years leading up to God revealing Himself among us in the person of Jesus, people wrestled with this truth. John the Baptist and Jesus both called people to change how they think: God is at work. He is always at work.

“Repent, for the kingdom of God is at hand” means change your thinking—recognize that God is actively working. In John 5:17, when Jesus healed on the Sabbath (as He still heals today, not just on the Sabbath but every day), He declared, “My Father and I are always working.” That is what God has done, what He is doing, and what He will always do.

God works. Throughout the history He reveals in Scripture, we see His work unfold. I often remember the phrase “HISTORY” — history tells His story. This summer, we will walk through twelve of the historical books of the Old Testament, from Joshua to Esther. In this preaching series, we will see Him at work not only in Scripture, but also today.

He is working. He is working for you and in you so that He can work through you. He is working in and through Trinity. Every day, His kingdom comes as thousands of people participate in our ministries—from our day school children to those who follow us on social media. He is working.

Why? Because you matter. Your neighbor matters. Trinity matters. As you read the articles in this edition of Trinity Matters, remember: God is at work—not just in and through Trinity, but in and through you.

You Matter!

SUMMER WORSHIP SCHEDULE

As the summer season approaches, we’re adjusting our weekend worship schedule to allow for a more unified worship experience while still offering multiple opportunities to gather and grow in God’s Word. Starting Memorial Day weekend (May 23-25) through Labor Day weekend (September 5-7), Trinity will be offering a consolidated worship schedule:

Saturday at 5:30 pm
Traditional Worship (Sanctuary)

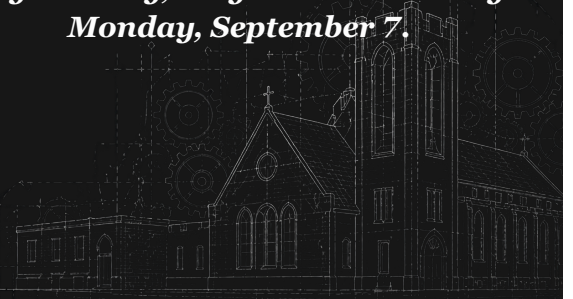

Sunday at 9:00 am
Traditional Worship (Sanctuary)

Sunday at 10:30 am
Contemporary Worship (gym)

Monday at 7:00 pm*
Contemporary Worship (Sanctuary)

Whether you're heading up north, enjoying family time, or staying close to home this summer, we hope one of these worship times works for you. Thank you for being part of our Trinity family, and we look forward to worshipping with you!

*There will be no worship on Memorial Day Monday, May 25 or Labor Day, Monday, September 7.

Caution: Summer Road Work Ahead (AND GOD AT WORK!)

REV. JOSH BRITTON
ASSOCIATE PASTOR OF WORSHIP

If you've driven anywhere in Michigan lately, you've probably noticed the familiar orange barrels, blinking lights, and "Merge Ahead" signs all around you. Yes, it's officially road construction season—the time of year where every trip feels like a test of patience!

Thankfully, and unlike the roads here in Michigan, the work of God among us never slows down—and that's something worth staying "on the road" for this summer.

It's tempting this time of year to take a break from our regular rhythms. Between vacations, lake days, family gatherings, and the irresistible call of sunshine after a long winter, church attendance can start to look a bit like I-94 at 5 a.m.—a little lighter than usual. And yet, just as construction crews take advantage of the summer months to do their most important work,

God is always at work in His Church—building, repairing, strengthening, and renewing His people through His Word and Sacraments.

In fact, you might say that faith itself is always "under construction." The Holy Spirit is continually shaping us, smoothing out rough patches, filling in cracks, and redirecting us when we've taken a wrong turn. And unlike Michigan road projects, His work is always on schedule and perfectly done.

So consider this your friendly "Detour Ahead" sign: don't drift too far from the place where God promises to meet you. Stay connected to worship, to His Word, and to one another. Plug in, engage and serve more, not out of obligation, but because this is where life happens—where forgiveness is given, faith is strengthened, and we actually get to witness God at work in real time.

And who knows? You might even find that summer in church has its own kind of beauty—familiar faces, a few new ones, and the steady reminder that no matter how many orange cones are in the way, God's promises always provide a clear path forward.

Thank you for being part of this congregation and for walking (or driving!) together in faith. If you want to dig in more to see God at work here at Trinity, please reach out (jbritton@trinityutica.com) as we would love to partner with you and serve together in the worship ministry. I look forward to seeing you this summer—no hard hat required.

FREEDOM CELEBRATION

250 YEARS OF Blessings

YOU'RE INVITED

Freedom Celebration

SUNDAY, JUNE 28, 2026 | 4 PM PROGRAM | 5 PM DINNER

We come together to thank God for 250 years of blessings in our nation! The evening begins at 4 pm in the Sanctuary with a meaningful program that will walk through the story of our country—from its founding and early days, through a nation divided, and into the present. Through patriotic readings, hymns, and prayer, we'll reflect on how God has been faithful through every season. We will also take time for a special moment of recognition for our veterans, honoring those who have served and sacrificed. Following the program, you're invited to stay for dinner at 5 pm in the Fellowship Hall, where we can continue the evening in fellowship and gratitude.

Registration is preferred, but not required—all are welcome to attend.

GOD AT WORK

in the next generation

REV. NICK DUERR
ASSOCIATE PASTOR OF FAITH FORMATION

Our upcoming sermon series is titled "God at Work," where we are going to walk through the historical Old Testament books and see how God has worked in history, and see in them the promises He makes to work in our lives now. But this got me thinking about a bit of our more recent history here at Trinity, and reminded me of an experience I had recently, twice. Twice in the last few months I officiated a committal at Utica Cemetery.

For those of you who aren't familiar with Utica Cemetery, based on my experiences at least half of the people resting there are Trinity members awaiting the resurrection. Both times I was there, I heard stories. Some were stories of family members or friends whose plots were nearby. But some of the stories were of teachers, church members, others who volunteered at Trinity, and had an impact on the faith of those telling me these stories. And hearing these stories, I got the opportunity to see God at work in our own history. I got to hear from people how the church we are today comes from how those faithful saints listened to the call to serve children.

This is a work that God is still doing here at Trinity! There is a new generation of people that God is raising up to be His church, children here at Trinity, and in our community around us. Through our Children's Ministry we are inviting that generation to learn about and grow in their faith through Trinity Kids, VBS, Trunk or Treat, and other amazing activities and events. God is at work making His youngest disciples into men and women of faith who will continue to do the kingdom work.

I want to join God in inviting you to participate in His work. God has equipped you with skills, talents, passion, and life experiences that you can share with His children.

By being present in their lives, by sharing how God has worked and is working in your life, you're doing the same work as those saints I got to meet at Utica Cemetery. You will get to be a part of God's work in history, raising up saints for His church.

I want to end by being a little more specific. I've generally invited you to participate in God's kingdom work by volunteering in our Children's Ministry. But there's a lot going on. So to get you thinking about specific ways you might use the gifts God has given you, I want to share a few specific ideas. First of all, we're very excited about our upcoming Rainforest Falls VBS, where we have volunteer opportunities for crew leaders, snack helpers, check in, Bible stories, and so many other activities. We're also looking forward to the fall and a new year of Trinity Kids where volunteers help lead small group discussions and activities with children from preschool through fourth grade. If you love children who are younger you could sign up to help out in the nursery on Sunday mornings. We also have fun events like the Family Fun Festival in September and Trunk or Treat in October that require a lot of volunteers to show the love of Jesus to kids both from Trinity and from our community. There are even opportunities to help prepare crafts for lessons or make activity kits for special occasions. However God has gifted you, you can be a blessing to the newest generation of Christians! If you would like to participate in any of these activities I invite you to reach out at nduerr@trinityutica.com, and I can help you find a way to serve!

GOD AT WORK

in our men's ministry

REV. JUSTIN KRUPSKY
SENIOR PASTOR

Men's retreats, prayer breakfast, Warrior Dad's breakfast, Saturday morning Bible study, Monday night Bible study, Wednesday morning Bible study, Thursday morning Bible study, Man Up Monday podcasts, golf outings, bonfire events, car show, basketball, softball... these are but a few of the ways men are connecting not just with their Savior Jesus, but also with one another through Trinity.

Our men's ministry team believes that God is calling us to be Kingdom Men, R.E.A.L men who reject passivity, engage with God, accept responsibility and live courageously.

If you are a man—or know a man—we invite you to get connected and engage with other men here at Trinity. This fall we will continue to our Bible studies, but we also have a golf outing, overnight men's retreat, and the second session of our 40-day Man Up Challenge.

Twelve men recently completed a 40-day challenge focused on becoming stronger, more faithful men of God. Through daily Scripture, spiritual disciplines, physical challenges, and intentional focus on family, they committed to growth—meeting each Sunday at 5:30 am to stay accountable.

These men are different. Their faith is stronger, their families see it, and even the enemy feels it—because a Spirit-led man changes the atmosphere around him. Session 2 begins Sunday, October 4 and runs through November 8. I dare you to sign up!

GOD IS AT WORK

in my area of ministry... through my ears and mouth

REV. CHAD WRIGHT
ASSOCIATE PASTOR OF CHRISTIAN CARE & COUNSELING

I have the privilege of having had a solid seminary training and receiving a Master of Divinity, as well as completing a Master of Science in Mental Health Counseling, and completing licensure as a licensed professional counselor. It has equipped me to be a counseling pastor. When God called me here to Trinity, I knew that He would bring people to me to care for who needed spiritual and mental health care. In every season of life, God provides people who help carry our burdens. As a Christian counselor, I strive to quietly reflect the heart of Christ through two simple gifts: my ears and my mouth.

Listening as a Ministry of Compassion

Scripture repeatedly shows God as the One who hears:

- “I have surely seen the affliction of my people... and have heard their cry” (Exodus 3:7).
- “The Lord is near to the brokenhearted” (Psalm 34:18).

A counselor’s attentive ear becomes a living echo of God’s attentive heart. When I listen as a pastor and as a counselor, it is a professional skill, but it is also more than a professional skill; it’s a ministry. In Scripture, God is repeatedly described as the One who hears His people. When a counselor listens with patience and gentleness, that listening becomes a small echo of God’s own attentiveness. Many people walk into a counseling room feeling unheard, unseen, or overwhelmed. Simply being listened to—without judgment, without interruption—can be the first step toward healing. Through my ears, God creates space for honesty, courage, and hope to grow.

Speaking as a Ministry of Grace

If listening is holy ground, speaking too is holy work. A Christian counselor’s words are not meant to be clever, impressive, or forceful. They are meant to be instruments of grace. Scripture says:

- “A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in settings of silver” (Proverbs 25:11).
- “Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt” (Colossians 4:6).

God calls a counselor not only to listen, but also to counsel. As a pastor and a counselor, my words also become a tool God uses. Not to lecture or condemn, but to guide, encourage, and speak the truth in love. Sometimes the words are comforting: “You’re not alone.” “God has not forgotten you.” Sometimes they are clarifying: “This pattern is hurting you.” “There is another way forward.” And often, they are hopeful: “God is still at work in your story.”

I cannot tell you how humbling it is – and how grateful I am - when God uses my mouth to share His Word and it becomes seeds of transformation in the lives of people whom I care for.

A Quiet Partnership with God

As a Christian counselor, I don’t claim to be the healer—God is. But through prayer and preparation, I offer myself and my skills as a vessel through which God can work. I pray continually that my listening reflects His compassion; that my words reflect His truth; that my presence reflects His nearness to the hurting and brokenhearted.

And in countless quiet moments, I have seen God use these simple human gifts to bring comfort, clarity, and renewal. Thank you brothers and sisters in Christ here at Trinity for that privilege to serve as a pastor and counselor.

A Word of Encouragement for Our Church Family

If you are walking through a difficult season, consider reaching out to me and exploring if I could care for you for a time. It is not a sign of weakness—it is a step toward wholeness. As long as I am here and serve in this ministry, where God is using my ears and mouth more powerfully than I could have ever realized, I pray that I can be useful in caring for you.

SEEING GOD MOVE through community

ANNA GAUSS
CHRISTIAN GROWTH ASSOCIATE

We have seen God at work in a powerful way through our Life Groups this past season. It has been a joy to watch our community grow not just in numbers, but in depth. Our groups recently finished an impactful study on Ephesians by Derwin Gray. Through this, we saw God move through our incredible "hosts"—those who generously opened their hearts and homes to create spaces where people felt seen, known, and welcomed. Their hospitality is the heartbeat of this ministry, fostering the kind of community where faith truly flourishes.

We are also thrilled to celebrate our adult confirmands from this past spring! Welcoming them into our church family is a beautiful reminder of how God continues to draw people to Himself. If you are interested in joining our next cohort, this summer is the perfect time to sign up for our upcoming fall confirmation sessions.

Looking Ahead

As we look toward the months ahead, we are excited for our next church-wide study: the Red Letter Challenge: Serving Challenge. This summer, we invite you to prayerfully consider if God is calling you to open your heart or home as a host for this upcoming season. It is a wonderful way to put faith into action. If you feel a nudge to learn more about what hosting looks like, we would love to start a conversation with you.

FROM FIRST STEPS TO THE FINISH LINE

God at Work Among Us

BRUCE VOLKERT
SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

As we approach the final weeks of the school year, it is easy to look at our calendars and feel the weight of a long race nearly run. Whether you are a student finishing a final project, a parent navigating the end-of-year hustle, or a teacher grading those last assignments, we all know that work can leave us tired.

Yet, as we enter the final stretch of Trinity's school year, we don't just see tired faces, we see the unmistakable hand of God at work. There is much evidence that our Savior's efforts never end. Since the start of 2025, we have been blessed to witness 19 baptisms within our school community. We praise Jesus for using our school to bring children to the waters of baptism. This is a reminder that while we teach math and reading, take part in music classes and go out to recess, God is doing work that lasts throughout eternity. We see this work continue every morning as our youngest students arrive for preschool ready to grow in wisdom and stature. We celebrate this year as the Trinity preschool has been welcoming little ones to our doors for 50 years. Praise God!

We are blessed to watch God work over the years as preschool students transform from little kids into big kids. This divine "work in progress" reaches its annual milestone on Friday, June 5, as we celebrate the graduation of our Class of 2026. These students have run their race well, and we look forward to honoring their achievements and the bright futures God has prepared for them.

God has worked through our recent Dinner Auction. Through the generosity of our workers, donors and givers we raised over $70,000. After we deduct expenses we will have the needed funds so that work can go on in the 2nd floor hallway with the replacement of our lockers and adding new carpet. Thank you to all who contributed to the work of the upkeep of His school.

To get to the finish line, we lean into our final Trinity Trait of the year: Perseverance. In the moments when we feel weary, we turn to the encouragement found in Hebrews 12:1-2:

"Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles. And let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us, fixing our eyes on Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of faith."

We are blessed to have Jesus as our strength. He did not just cheer us on from the sidelines; He endured the cross so that we might have life. When we consider Him, we find the strength to not grow weary or lose heart.

As we move toward June 5 and our final day of the school year, let's keep our eyes fixed on Him, celebrating every baptism, every milestone, and every student. God is at work, and He is faithful to complete the good work He started in us!

GOD AT WORK through our finances

CYNDI CARPENTER
DIRECTOR OF HR & FINANCE

For more than 140 years, God has faithfully been at work through the people and ministry of Trinity. While we often see His hand in worship, teaching, and relationships, we also see His provision clearly through something very tangible—our finances.

From the earliest days of Trinity, God has moved the hearts of His people to give generously from their first fruits. Those faithful offerings have made possible the very foundation we stand on today. Through times of growth and challenge, He has provided what was needed—raising up leaders, inspiring generosity, and guiding wise stewardship.

We've seen His hand in the construction of buildings and classrooms, in the expansion of our facilities, and in the growth of a thriving school ministry that continues to impact generations of students. We've seen it in the way Trinity has cared for those in need—feeding the hungry, supporting families, and serving our community with compassion. And through it all, God has allowed Trinity to remain debt-free, even while continuing to expand and improve His ministry here.

That is no small thing. That is God at work.

At the same time, the day-to-day ministry of Trinity carries very real and ongoing financial needs. Supporting a dedicated team of over 100 staff members—including salaries and benefits—requires consistent and faithful funding. The upkeep and maintenance of our entire campus is never-ending, and like many organizations, we are feeling the impact of inflation and the rising cost of living each year.

Yet even in these realities, we see God's provision. He has sustained Trinity through every season, providing exactly what has been needed through the faithful generosity of His people.

Even in the middle of these realities, we rest in God's promise: "And my God will meet all your needs according to the riches of his glory in Christ Jesus." — Philippians 4:19

Now, we stand at another important moment in Trinity's story. As we prepare for a Sanctuary remodel and begin construction in the coming year on a nearly $3 million project—one that has already been prayerfully supported over the past six years—we are once again called to trust.

Trust that the same God who provided in the past will provide again. Trust that He will continue to move hearts. Trust that He will equip His church for the work ahead.

Scripture reminds us:

"Honor the Lord with your wealth, with the firstfruits of all your crops; then your barns will be filled to overflowing." — Proverbs 3:9–10

And again: "Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give... for God loves a cheerful giver." — 2 Corinthians 9:7

Giving is not simply about meeting a need—it is about participating in God's mission. It is an act of worship, a step of faith, and a reflection of trust in the One who provides all things.

As we look ahead, we also recognize something important: we cannot become complacent. The continued growth of Trinity's ministry—reaching new families, discipling students, and sharing the love of Christ—depends on ongoing faithfulness. We are prayerful that God will continue to inspire generous hearts, raise up supporters, and bring people alongside this ministry so that Trinity may continue to serve for another 100+ years.

And what a privilege that is.

We invite you to prayerfully consider how God might be calling you to be part of this ongoing work—through your prayers, your presence, and your financial support. Every gift, given in faith, plays a role in sustaining and growing the ministry we share. We move forward with gratitude for all God has done, confidence in what He is doing now, and hope in what He will do in the future. We pray that He will continue to lead people and resources to Trinity, equipping us to remain a place where lives are changed and Christ is shared with love.

Because this has never just been about buildings or budgets.

It is about God at work—through His people—for His purpose.

GOD AT WORK

through serving others

REV. CHRISTIAN JONES
ASSOCIATE PASTOR OF OUTREACH

On any given week, it would be easy to drive past a church and never realize just how much is happening behind its doors. But at Trinity Utica, the story is different. It's one worth slowing down for. This is not just a place where needs are met. It's a place where Christ meets people through His people.

Every Sunday at 1:00 pm, Supper, Sack-lunch and Showers serves those experiencing homelessness or hardship. But what unfolds here goes beyond food. Volunteers do not just hand out plates, they can share presence, conversation, and, when welcomed, the hope found in Jesus Christ. A simple "How are you?" can open the door to deeper care. A prayer offered at the table, a Scripture shared in the moment, or even a quiet reminder that Christ has not forgotten them, are acts of Christ-centered evangelism woven naturally into the meal. It is not forced or performative; it is relational, rooted in the love of Christ who fed the hungry and welcomed the outcast.

That is why serving here matters. Because the Gospel is not just spoken, it is embodied. Volunteers become instruments through whom others encounter both daily bread and the Bread of Life.

Every other Sunday at 1:00 pm, the Food Pantry in the Ark opens, providing client-choice groceries for families and individuals in need. Here too, the mission reaches deeper than physical hunger. Volunteers have opportunities to speak words of encouragement grounded in Christ, to remind guests that their worth is not measured by their circumstances, and to offer prayer for burdens that go far beyond empty cupboards. In these moments, the pantry becomes more than a distribution point, it becomes a place where Christ's compassion is both heard and felt.

On Monday mornings Delivering Disciples prepare their meals for delivery in the kitchen and Fellowship Hall. Then comes Tuesday, when the meals are delivered to those in need.

These deliveries often become powerful moments of ministry. A knock on the door is more than a food drop, it is a reminder that someone cares, and ultimately, that Christ cares. A brief conversation on a doorstep, a kind word, or a promise to keep someone in prayer can carry lasting weight. In a world where isolation is common, these visits reflect the Good Shepherd who seeks out His sheep.

Inside the Ark on Tuesdays from 10 am to 2 pm, the Kids' Closet opens for families who need clothing for their children. Here, Christ-centered evangelism takes on a gentle, compassionate form. Volunteers help parents and children find what they need while reflecting the kindness and dignity that Christ shows to each person. It is an opportunity to speak hope into families' lives, to remind them that they are seen and valued, and, when appropriate, to share the deeper truth: that in Christ, they are clothed not only with garments, but with grace.

So why is it important to serve here? Because the needs are real, and so is the Gospel. At Trinity, acts of service and words of faith are not in competition. They belong together. Feeding the hungry, clothing children, and delivering meals are not replacements for sharing Christ; they are the very contexts in which His love is made known. And for those who step in to serve, something unexpected often happens. The lines between giver and receiver begin to blur. Faith is strengthened, compassion grows, and volunteers find themselves not just participating in charity, but in Christ's ongoing work of reaching people right where they are.

In a fast-moving world, it's easy to overlook the quiet power of showing up; but here, every meal served, every bag packed, every door knocked on, and every child clothed becomes part of a larger story. The story of Christ's love reaching into real lives. And, I want you to be a part of this amazing story, too. If you would like more information on how to serve in any of the Social Ministry's service opportunities, please contact Pastor Jones at cjones@trinityutica.com.
