

Read Joshua 24:15.

- Make this declaration in faith: “As for me and my household, we will serve the Lord. I will faithfully stand in prayer for my family. I believe God for salvation, restoration, protection, purpose, and spiritual growth in my family.”

Read Psalm 78:4.

- Prayer: Pray for grace to build a godly legacy that will bless generations after you. Ask God to help you pass on faith, godly character, and the testimony of His faithfulness.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with ten sets of horizontal dashed lines. Each set consists of three parallel lines, providing a guide for handwriting practice. The lines are evenly spaced across the page.

Daily Devotional

Here is a Daily Devotional to enable you to make the most of this sermon. You may use it for your personal growth or discuss it together in your Life Group.

October 26: It Starts at Home.

Read Deuteronomy 6:5–7.

- What spoke to you the most from Apostle Fant's sermon? How would what you heard influence your view of family?
- We sometimes think our greatest impact will be made in public, but some of the most important people God has entrusted to us are already living under our roof.
- What kind of spiritual atmosphere are you helping to create in your home? How visible is your relationship with God to the people closest to you?
- Which spiritual habit could your family begin or strengthen together? What can you do this week to make Christ more central in your home?

Make this declaration in faith: "My home belongs to God. I will intentionally build a family in which Christ is honored, His Word is treasured, and His love is demonstrated every day."

October 27: Your Example Speaks.

Read 1 Corinthians 11:1.

- The people closest to us see the parts of our lives others may never see. They know how we respond when we are tired, disappointed, frustrated, or under pressure. That is why our example at home matters.
- What does your family learn about following Christ by watching you? Which part of your example at home needs to change?
- How do you respond to family members when you are frustrated or disappointed? What Christlike quality do you want your family to see more clearly in you?

Pray this prayer by faith: "Lord, help me reflect You in my home. Remove attitudes and behaviors that dishonor You. Let my example inspire my family to love and follow You in Jesus's Name. Amen."

October 28: Speak Life at Home

Read Proverbs 18:21.

- How would your family describe the way you speak to them? When was the last time you intentionally encouraged someone in your family?
- Which words or attitudes do you need to remove from your conversations at home?
- Your words carry influence. A sincere "I appreciate you," "I believe in you," "I am proud of you," or "I am praying for you" can strengthen someone more than you realize. Even correction can be given with grace and love. Who in your family needs to hear an encouraging word from you today?

Prayer: "Father, guard my mouth and give me wisdom in the way I speak to my family. Remove harsh, careless, and destructive words from me. Teach me to speak words that heal, encourage, correct with love, and build others up in Jesus' name. Amen."

October 30: Love Must Be Seen.

Read 1 Corinthians 13:4–7.

- How do the people in your family know that you love them? Which description of love in 1 Corinthians 13 challenges you most?
- Are you giving your family your presence or only your provision?
- Love is more than something we feel or say. Love becomes meaningful when it can be seen. Family members should not have to guess whether they are loved. What simple act of love can you intentionally perform today?

Prayer: "Lord Jesus, teach me to love my family the way You love me. Make me patient, kind, attentive, and selfless in my relationships. Help me turn my love into actions that strengthen and bless my home. Amen."
