
the Gospel means...

You are personally known and loved. You have a new identity and a new start. You have a root system to hold your life together. You are never alone. You are immensely valuable. Your life has meaning. You are a human being, special to God. You have moral dignity. Your pain is purposeful and God uses it for good. You are given grace and peace. You are a member of a global and eternal community. Your life is eternal.
