

Working with Vulnerable People - Child Related Activity Check

What is a Working With Children Check?

A Working With Children Check is a requirement for people who work or volunteer in child-related work. It involves a national criminal history check and a review of findings of workplace misconduct. The result of a Working With Children Check is either a clearance to work with children for five years, or a bar against working with children. Cleared applicants are subject to ongoing monitoring.

Why do I need to be registered?

The aim is to keep our children as safe as possible by reducing the incidence of sexual, physical, psychological, emotional harm or neglect of children in Tasmania.

How much does it cost?

The volunteer registration fee is $19.44 which is for a 3 year period.

What does the process involve?

To apply for a Working with Children Registration, you need to go to Service Tasmania or begin the application process online.

What information you will need to have ready to complete application:

- the full address of every place you have lived over the last five years (including dates)
- details for each organisation you will be doing paid or volunteer child-related work for including details such as the name, address, phone number, contact person, start date and email address
- your place of birth
- details of periods you have lived outside of Australia (including countries and relevant dates)
- details of any overseas offences
- details of family violence, restraint, apprehended violence or child protection orders (against you)
- drivers licence number and expiry date if you intend to use this to prove your identity.
