DEACON OF THE WEEK

I am continually amazed at the work that God is doing in our prisons. Hearing their stories and seeing firsthand how God is changing lives has been one of the most rewarding aspects of my spiritual life. I want to invite you to pray for the continual spread of the gospel in our prisons.

From the Pastor...

1 Peter 3:8-9 says, “Now finally, all of you should be like-minded and sympathetic, should love believers, and be compassionate and humble, not paying back evil for evil or insult for insult but, on the contrary, giving a blessing, since you were called for this, so that you can inherit a blessing.”

In numerous places throughout God’s Word, we are commanded to be set apart and to live in such a way that brings honor and glory to God. This is a major theme throughout Peter’s letter to the believers scattered across the world. These two verses speak to that very clearly.

After addressing our civil, vocational, and domestic relationships, Peter concludes by suggesting that our spiritual relationships with one another should be characterized by unity, love, compassion, humility, and service. We are brothers and sisters in Christ. Our spiritual battles are not against flesh and blood but against the spiritual forces of evil. Jesus told His disciples that many would know that we are His disciples by how we love one another.

I pray that we would recognize the blessings we have as members of God’s family. I pray that we would multiply that blessing in the lives of others. I pray that we would be unified by God’s grace and love. I pray that others would see our good works and glorify our Father in heaven.

I pray that we will live like Jesus. I hope to see you Sunday!

In Christ,
Jason
