- o Your sister ate the last of the cookies your family made, and you only got one. How could you put your sister first and make things right?
- o Someone made fun of you. They realized they were wrong and apologized to you. How could you put others first and make it right?
- o Your friend promised to save you a seat at lunch and forgot, so you had to eat alone. How could you put others first and make things right?
- o It's your brother's job to take out the trash, but your dad asked you to do it again. How could you put others first and make it right?
- o Your mom was late picking you up from school. You are mad! How could you put your mom first and make things right?
- o Your aunt was supposed to pick you up and take you to your soccer game, but she was so late that you missed the first half and didn't get to play. How could you put others first and make things right?
- o You said you would run an errand at school and take something to the office for your teacher. But you forgot, and he asked someone else to do it. You really like running errands for your teacher, so you're pretty disappointed. How could you put others first and make things right?
- o Your friend is mad at you. You don't know why. How could you put others first and make things right?

Don't

do

anything

only

to get ahead.

Don't

do

it

because

you

are proud.

Instead,

be humble.

Value

others

more

than yourselves.

Philippians

2:3 (NirV)

Do

nothing

out

of

selfish

ambition

or

vain

conceit.

Rather,

in

humility

value

above

yourselves.
