The Wait

Waiting is hard. We humans are not patient creatures and more so today than ever. Think of the indignation experienced after being notified of a delay in shipping, the agony of a slow loading website, or the frustration of a packed queue at the DMV. We do not like to be kept waiting.

Why is that? Is it really that we think our time is that valuable? Are we so efficient that every minute is put to such good use that waiting 10 minutes severely diminishes production? Are we so important that all things must synchronize to our schedules? Many people think so, but most are unable to do anything about it. Medieval royalty thought their time was so valuable that they had people who were in a constant state of waiting on their behalf. “Ladies-in-waiting” waited on royal women so that they never had to wait themselves. How does that sound? For waiting to be your main purpose in life? Woof! As for me, I recognize that my time is not that important and yet waiting is still difficult. It reminds me of the hard reality of things. It reminds me that I am not the center of the universe. It reminds me that I am not in control. Every wait is a reminder of these stark facts, but some more pointedly than others. Waiting for test results and a diagnosis. Waiting for a deeply desired returned phone call. Waiting for a safe return. Waiting for words of forgiveness. Waiting for something, anything to bring hope, peace, love, and joy.

Waiting in these moments reminds us of our frailty, our dependence, our need, and it gives us time to think about our sorry predicament. So, we rush through life, expediting everything we can, paying to skip the lines, to speed up the shipping, trying to eliminate the insecurity and thought-provoking silence of the wait. But we can't escape waiting, it is just a fact of life.

Now we have Advent. Advent is a season of waiting. Waiting for the arrival of the Christmas celebration and for that second coming of our King. It shouldn't be a surprise that our culture has minimized this season. We just celebrate Christmas for four weeks! No waiting necessary! And in that, we miss out on something beautiful; we miss out on God's gift in waiting as He promises in Isaiah 40:3, “They who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.”

In our Advent waiting, we are confronted with reality, all the hard truths the world wishes to ignore, but along with those we are confronted with the reality of Jesus Christ. The One who is the center of the universe and is in control, who also is the One who waited for you throughout history and most powerfully in His three days in the tomb. The One who promises that our waiting is coming to an end, that He is returning to make all things new, to redeem all that we are and fill us with hope, peace, love, and joy for all time. In Advent Jesus proclaims that this is happening even right now. Our waiting is redeemed and turned into joyful expectation as we sing with the saints of all time and places, “O come, Thou Dayspring, from on high, and cheer us by Thy drawing nigh; Disperse the gloomy clouds of night, and death's dark shadows put to flight. Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel Shall come to thee, O Israel.”

May Jesus bless your Advent wait.

Pastor Andrew

Jesus Came and Still Comes

It's difficult for me to write "in the season of things" when the season hasn't been experienced yet. So right now, I find myself sitting at my computer (pre-Thanksgiving) trying to figure out what to write for the December issue of the Proclaim. Christmas? I haven't even made it through the Thanksgiving holiday yet, although one of my daughters has safely arrived home and the second is soon to follow, I've watched a bit of football, eaten a few more sweets, and taken the time to cook a little more food. Is that what holidays are all about? They certainly may entail these things, but I search for a deeper meaning.

Reflecting upon the holidays soon to come, I am reminded of the many ways in which my Father has blessed me. He has heard my praises and listened to my heartfelt pleadings. He has answered prayer, not always on my time, but in His time, in His way. I must admit that I do not always understand His timing and His answers, but I am solidly sure of the answer to this question, "Does God care about me?" You bet He does! Of that, I am certain. It takes only a glance at 1 John 3:1 to remind me, "See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are." AND SO WE ARE! That is what I need to know.

See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God;
and so we are.

Paging through the accounts in the Bible of desperate people seeking answers, I am reminded that we are common people who serve an uncommon God. Many of these people were hurting. Their situations were different, but their conditions were much the same. In fact, their conditions are very comparable to ours today. Trapped. Estranged. Rejected. Broken. Hurting. I am sure that we can identify.

I would assume Joseph had questions of God. Maybe he felt some of those emotions listed above. I would think Joseph did not envision his wife giving birth to the Savior of the world in a stable with animals. When that angel first came to speak to him, I wonder what he envisioned Christ's birth being like? Maybe Joseph had questions similar to these and maybe he didn't, but the important thing is that Joseph obeyed God, and God's Son was born into the world to save people just like us, more specifically...exactly us.

Why is the Bible filled with accounts of common everyday people who are in predicaments and have problems? Is it so we can look back with awe on what Jesus did? Maybe partially, but I think the bigger picture that should resonate with us is to show us not what Jesus did but what He continues doing. These aren't just Sunday school stories in the Bible. They aren't just tales for our amusement. These are historic moments where God met people where they were...amid their pain and suffering. And if God met people in their pain and suffering back in Biblical times, can He not do that same thing today? Can He not meet us where we are, no matter where that might be? He certainly can! That is exactly why He sent His Son to be born into this world as a baby to rescue us. His Son was familiar with pain and suffering. Jesus chose to meet people where they were. He chooses to meet us today in the middle of our muck.

"The God who spoke still speaks. The God who forgave still forgives. The God who came still comes. He comes into our world. He comes into your world. He comes to do what you can't. He comes to move the stones you can't budge." (He Still Moves Stones - Max Lucado)

“Bread of Life”

Wednesdays in Advent

Bethlehem is a Hebrew word that means “house of bread.” Ruth and Naomi find this to be true as they settle in the town of Bethlehem following the death of their husbands. There Boaz, Ruth’s future husband and great-grandfather to King David, sees to it that Ruth and Naomi receive a portion of the grain harvest. In this series of services, we see how the town of Bethlehem ultimately cradles Jesus Christ, the very Bread of Life, sent to nourish God’s people for this earthly life and satisfy their needs for all eternity. Worship November 30, December 7 and 14 at 10 am and 7 pm. A meal is served at 6 pm in the school gym, and evening services include a special children’s message and will be preceded by an Advent/Christmas hymn sing.

Family Life Milestones

These past months have been busy with Milestone celebrations! So far this school year, we have celebrated with the 4 year olds as they received My First Hymnal, a resource that is beautifully crafted for young children as an introduction to worship. The 2nd graders received their Faith Alive bible which they use throughout their grade school years. We have also celebrated with the 6th graders as they received a gift from Thrivent to help them in their stewardship plan learning what it means to use the blessings of time, talent, and treasures to glorify God. On November 13, we celebrated with the Kindergartners when they were gifted with a richly illustrated Story Bible. Kindergartners and their parents discovered how they might use this bible in their homes to learn about the truths of the Lord and were able to tell bible stories with their families by using “prop boxes.” We especially thank Ladies Aid #1 for their continued generous support of this milestone.

Tails from The Comfort Dogs

The holiday season approaches and Jessy and I are happy, happy, happy (in our special Golden Retriever way) to be busy, busy, busy! We are also wagging our tails with joy for cooler temperatures and long walks.

In November, I was invited to attend a Yellow Ribbon event in Lake Ozark, along with Boaz Comfort Dog. This event provides resource access and support to help National Guard and Reserve service members manage the concerns of deployment. It connects them with support where they need it- close to home! Boaz and I got a lot of hugs and snuggles. Frequently, we heard "Oh, this is just what I needed today!". Our handlers asked how they could pray for the service members and were blessed to be able to listen to their concerns. I also was invited to a meeting of the Mighty Acorn Adventure Club in Shawnee, Kansas. They were excited to listen to our presentation about Comfort Dog ministry and we helped them earn a dog care badge.

I received two emergency calls to hospitals this month from medical staff who had met us before and knew the patients, families and medical staff needed us right away. My handlers and I were honored to come at the time when they needed us most.

Jessy and I enjoyed our regular nursing home, court, hospital visits and school counseling work in November but we were especially pleased to celebrate Jessy's 10th birthday on November 11th. She has served St. Paul's for 9 years and visited countless people in need of encouragement, comfort, and hope! We are so thankful for our handlers who share Jesus' love with others every day. Please continue praying that the Lord will use us to open hearts to His grace and mercy!

St. Paul's Lutheran School

In December, our students will be discussing generosity. We give back to God and care for others because everything we own is from God. The opportunity to share our blessings with others brings us, and those we help, joy. May we always be so giving and be generous, for Hebrews 13:2 says: "Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." May you also be inspired to be generous both in the season of Advent and even all year long.

St. Paul's Lutheran School invites you to join us in prayer throughout the school year as Pastor Michael and Pastor Andrew on Mondays at 8 AM in the Parish Office to pray for a specific class, the school, and the world! You may also join us for our chapel service on Wednesdays at 8 AM when school is in session!

Thank you to everyone who supported our students by attending McTeacher Night and the library through our annual Book Fair. During the month of December, be sure to support St. Paul's by eating at the El Patron on Friday, December 3rd (percentage of sales goes to PTL), purchasing popcorn (November 16-30th, distributed on December 19th), and attending the annual Christkindlesmarkt at Saint Paul High School and purchasing Lebkuchen from the PTL Stand! Thank you for your continued support of St. Paul's Lutheran School!

What a joy and blessing to celebrate on Grandparents' Day! We listened to beautiful music, ate a delicious meal catered by Plowboys BBQ, and enjoyed meeting and visiting all of the grandparents.

Remember to mark your calendar for March 11th, 2023 for the 2023 Gifts of Grace Benefit Dinner and Auction! The event is always a good time and a great support to St. Paul's Lutheran School!

St. Paul's students have begun the annual tradition of preparing for the Children's Christmas Eve Service (December 24th at 6 PM). We also invite you to join us for our annual Christmas Concert on December 13th at 6:30 PM in the gym as we give glory to God for our musical talents. Throughout the Advent Season, be sure to join us at Wednesday Advent Services (7 PM) to listen to special music presented by our music classes!

During the month of November, thanks to generous Thrivent Members running Thrivent Action Teams, a team supported our athletics programs by running an educational event and a group continues the work to create the outdoor learning area for our younger learners. Thank you! If you are a Thrivent Member and are looking for a great place to send your Choice Dollars or a partner with your Thrivent Action Teams, please reach out to Mr. Poppe at 660-463-7654!

We praise God for all that He provides to our learners at St. Paul's Lutheran School and thank you for your continued prayers for our teachers, staff, and students!

May the Lord bless your Advent and Christmas seasons!
