Shelter Rock

A warm and elegant setting for all faith traditions

The Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Shelter Rock is a religious home where you and your family can come together for events in life that challenge us, inspire hope, call forth our prayers and bring joy. As a liberal faith, Unitarian Universalism is accepting of all religious backgrounds, beliefs, and traditions. We invite you to honor life's transitions led by a member of our ministry team. DEDICATIONS |

dedications

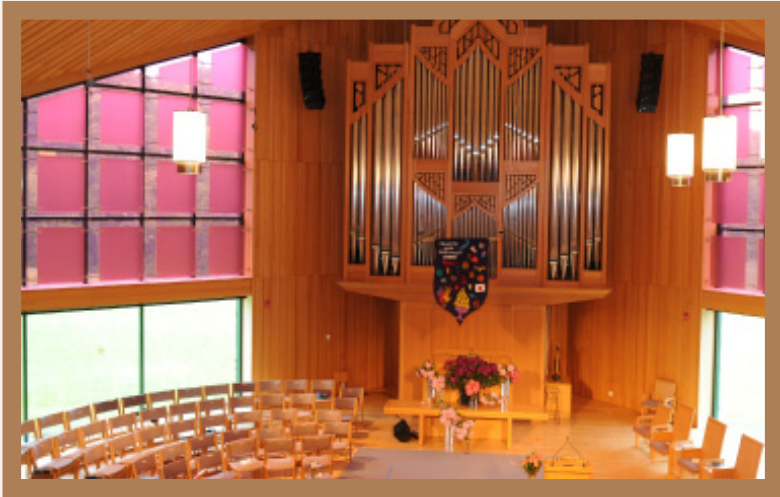

Every child brings new life and hope into the world. Ceremonies welcoming children into the world are called dedications and are similar to christenings, baptisms and naming ceremonies. This ceremony provides parents the opportunity to publicly express the love and guidance they will offer their child together with family and friends. Each ceremony is unique and may include elements reflective of a family's cultural or religious traditions. At Shelter Rock you will find a nurturing community where your child's first milestone will be a cherished moment to reflect upon for years to come.

WEDDINGS | weddings

Unitarian Universalism has a long history of supporting marriages for interfaith couples, same-sex couples and those from all religious backgrounds and beliefs. Services are personalized to reflect the life, values, and interests of every couple. Ceremonies can be held in the Worship Room which accommodates up to 350 guests or in our Chapel, which offers a more intimate setting for smaller ceremonies. Shelter Rock's lush landscape serves as a perfect backdrop for photos.

MEMORIALS | memorials

End of life services range from intimate family oriented gatherings to large community memorial services in celebration of one special life. Every situation is handled with dignity and according to the wishes of close family and friends. During this trying time, a member of Shelter Rock's ministry team will support and guide families in planning a memorial befitting their loved one.
