Missionaries Reaching the National Police of Colombia, South America

TROUBLED TIMES AHEAD

"But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days." 1 Timothy 3:1 NIV

Bomb explosions, car bombings, gun battles, hostage taking and outright bounties on the heads of Colombia's police officers are on the rise here.

Over the last two months, 21 brave Colombian police officers lost their lives due this dark and nonsensical violence being waged on them.

Although we are unable to thwart these tragedies in this world, Heroes of Justice spends much time in prayer, mobilizing instructors and chaplains, and using our financial resources to share the love of Jesus.

Where One Spends Eternity Matters to Us

Since October 2024, our team has trained, shared our hearts, sweat, and more specifically, shared Jesus with hundreds of officers rendering over 250 "New lives in Christ."

CONSTRUCTION PROGRESS

What once were two insignificant lots full of weeds and an abandoned concrete structure, your prayers and financial giving are transforming it into something big, beautiful and significant for our Colombian Heroes and their families.

Unforeseen News: The building behind us is old and beginning to collapse. In order to protect our property, we have to build a $30,000 retaining wall. In addition to this, the electric company is now requiring us to have a transformer - Cha Ching! Just $8,000. U.S.D.

At the End of the Day - We still give much thanks to the Lord. And, all that we do for His Kingdom is built upon love, faith, prayer, and obedience to His Word.

Why We Do What We Do ... Because He First Loved Us.
