

MEALS WITH GOD

In the midst of Abraham's tumultuous life in the land that would come to be known as Israel, he has a strange encounter with three strangers while resting in his tent. While this encounter may feel like nothing more than a strange aside in Abraham's story, it says more than we can imagine about God and the meals we are invited to participate in.

READ GENESIS 18:1-8 TOGETHER.

1. Why do you think Abraham reacted so suddenly to the appearance of the three visitors?
2. What does the nature of the Trinity teach us about God's intent and desire for community?
3. How can you show hospitality to someone this week?
