Prologue to Christmas

Before there was a manger in Bethlehem, there was the eternal Word who stood with God "in the beginning."

In our Advent series, A Prologue to Christmas, we'll delve into the rich imagery of John 1:1–18 to prepare the way for the miracle of Christmas like never before. Through vivid pictures of unquenchable light piercing the darkness and the Creator pitching His tent right in our neighborhood, John shows us the breathtaking reality of God taking on human flesh. Together, we will discover how these powerful metaphors of life, grace, and glory bring fresh wonder to the story of Jesus' arrival.

Come join us this Advent as we step back before the beginning of Christmas to see why His coming changes everything.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. The gospels of Matthew and Luke begin with Jesus' birth and Mark with his baptism, but John begins before time itself. Why do you think John chose to start the story "in the beginning"? How might this change the way you hear the Christmas story this year?
2. John 1:1 echoes Genesis 1:1 with the phrase, "in the beginning." What connections do you see between these two "beginnings"?
3. The Word isn't a principle or a point; it's a person. What is the difference between following a set of principles and knowing a person?
4. N.T. Wright says, "If you want to know who the true God is, look long and hard at Jesus." What does Jesus teach you about God's character?
5. John says the Word was with God and the Word was God: distinct from God, yet sharing God's very essence. Why is this holy paradox vital in our understanding of Jesus?
