Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy is a statement of how Fawn Lake Church collects, handles and processes data of its members, friends, guests, and visitors.

Donations: Regarding faith giving donations, in order for the church to provide an annual giving statement to an individual donor for tax-filing purposes, it is necessary for the church to collect identifying information including but not limited to full name, address, telephone number, email, and social security number.

All such identifying information and individual account balances will be kept strictly confidential. The church Treasurer and other staff and volunteers who have an official role in church financial operations will be given access to faith giving data on a need-to-know basis. Under no circumstances will personal identifying information or donor account balances be divulged, shared with, or sold to third parties.

Storage of Data: Personal data may be collected electronically online through the church web site. Such data will be stored in a password controlled archive database. In the event that personal data is collected on paper forms, the data will be key entered into the database, or the documents will be scanned and posted to the database. Paper originals will be destroyed except as required by law or regulation (e.g. medical and parental release forms required for children).
