

Day 3 – From This Day I Will Bless You

Scripture: Haggai 2:18-19

Reflection:

God promised that from the moment His people turned back in obedience, His blessing would return. Repentance brings restoration. The harvest may not appear overnight, but obedience always reopens the flow of God's favor.

Illustration:

After a season of drought, a farmer finally receives rain. The soil softens, and life begins to sprout again. It is much the same with our hearts. When we allow the Holy Spirit to soften our hearts we can begin a season of renewal and revival.

Application:

Mark this day. Choose obedience. Trust that God's blessings, peace, contentment, and provision will follow in His time. God's blessing may not be worldly fame or fortune but it can supply peace, joy, and comfort beyond description.
