

Day 2: Submission with Purpose

Reflection: Submission is not about weakness. It is about trust in God's authority. Even in a broken world with imperfect leaders, God calls believers to submit for His sake. This reflects a deeper understanding that God is sovereign and has established order. Our obedience to authority, when it does not contradict God's Word, becomes an act of worship.

Illustration: A soldier follows the chain of command not because every leader is perfect, but because the system itself provides order and direction. In a similar way, Christians trust God's ultimate authority even when earthly leadership is flawed.

Application: Consider an authority in your life that is difficult to respect. Instead of focusing on their flaws, commit to honoring God through your attitude and response this week.

Prayer: Father, help me to trust Your authority above all. Teach me to submit with the right heart, even when it is difficult. May my obedience bring honor to You. Amen.
