Hello everyone!

The summer is winding down, and here in Hungary this is the last week before school starts September 1st. We have had a wonderful summer, full of visitors and progress. I'd like to briefly share with you all what happened in August, and recap our summer.

August

In August we had a young man from Living Faith in Lee's Summit, MO come and spend a week with our family. Mason helped me with several projects in the church I needed to complete, and he was able to come to our church service on Sunday and experience what that was like. We did some sightseeing, and even visited the small village where the first Hungarian bible was printed. There they had a small museum, as well as one of the last remaining original bibles from 1590. It was a great week, and we are thankful for Mason coming and spending time with our family!

We had an interesting Sunday morning service in August too. On August 17th, I was at the church early with the worship team for rehearsal. Shortly into rehearsal the power went out. Not just in the church, but the whole street! After an hour the power still wasn't on, so we started the service in the dark without the sound system. Just the acoustic guitar and a cajon. After 3 songs the power came back on, and we were able to play the rest of the songs and preach the message with the power on! It was one of those strange Sundays where the routine was taken away, and it ended up being a very memorable service for all who were there.

The camera has a battery in it, so I was able to record the service even when the power was out. You can check it out below. The power comes back on around the 13 minute mark in the video.

Summer Recap

This summer we have been studying through the book of Joshua on Sunday mornings. You can check those sermons out on our YouTube page.

In June we started collecting offerings as a church, and that has went well! The church has responded, and it has even opened up new roles for people to serve in that area.

We had many visitors this summer which was a great encouragement to us! We had a group from OHBC in Cartersville, GA, as well as Brooke's mom after that, and finally Mason from Living Faith in Lee's Summit in August. We are thankful for everyone who came and saw what God is up to over here, and for investing time in our family.

Aside from the American guests, we have had a lot of first time visitors this summer as well! Not all have come back a second time, but some have! It was encouraging to me to see so many guests (almost weekly) during the summer time church lull.

Prayers & Praise

- Praise God for the beginning of offerings and church giving! The church has responded well to it.
- Praise for many first time guests this summer. Prayer for more guests, and returning guests

- Prayer for God to send us more seeking men and women. For fruit and spiritual growth this year!

I also ask that you all would be praying for Judah as he starts school this year. He will officially be in first grade. He is excited, but also nervous. He was in the same kindergarten for four years, and now he will begin the school that he will attend for the next eight years. Pray for his nerves, but also please pray that he would make new friends. We are praying that God would send him a best friend at school. That is the one thing that Judah is missing that he could really use here, a best friend. Please pray for that!

Also, Isaac has been potty-training for the past week, and doing well! It is exciting to see him growing out of the baby stage, and soon he'll come out of his crib too. This coming fall and winter feels like a new season of life for our family. Judah is going to primary school. Isaac is coming out of the baby stage. In December, we celebrate 5 years since moving to Hungary, and the church will be almost 2 years old too! I feel like our family is entering a new season, and that is both exciting and a bit nerve-wracking. Please pray for us as we move forward!

Thank you all for your continued partnership in prayer and giving. We are here because of all of you holding the rope back home.

God bless!

Kale Horvath

*P.S. - I have been working on a new, weekly devotion project this year in my spare time. I will be launching it in September. It will be a 52 week newsletter here on substack. I'll post more information next week on social media. If you are interested, you can check it out and subscribe for free here:
